

BROWN COUNTY LIBRARY PRESENTS:

GET PUBLISHED

How to Break into the Tough Writing
Market

Feel free to bring your work!
Time permitting,
speakers may have
time to talk with you about it.

MONDAY, FEBRUARY 17 - 6:30 P.M.
CENTRAL LIBRARY, 515 PINE ST.

Learn How To Find your writing niche 📌 Refine and revise your work 📌
Query agents, editors and publishers and write compelling query letters 📌 Navigate the worlds of self- and traditional publishing 📌 Learn the Dos and Don'ts of being a successful writer 📌 more at: www.browncountylibrary.org

Speakers:

Sharon Verbeten is a career journalist with more than 20 years' experience as a writer and editor for newspapers and trade magazines. She worked for more than 10 years as editorial director at Krause Publications, overseeing three trade publications and authoring two books. She currently owns her own freelance writing/editing firm All Write Creative Services and works as a children's librarian for Brown County Library.

Miranda Paul has written for newspapers, magazines and app/game companies and is an agented author with three children's books forthcoming from large, traditional publishing houses. She is an instructor at The Children's Book Academy, the Northeast Area rep for the Society of Children's Book Writers and Illustrators (SCBWI) and founder of RateYourStory.org.

