Pre-Literacy Tips

Talking:

Talk about different shapes of objects around you, as well as letters you come across. This helps build letter knowledge.

Singing:

Sing a rhyming song and have your child try to point out the rhyming words/sounds.

Reading:

Point to the words as you read them to your child; this helps support print awareness.

Writing:

When your child is drawing or painting, ask them to explain their artwork to you; this could include colors, shapes, or any other details. This will help them associate words with pictures.

Playing:

Have your child make up their own story using the pictures in a picture book. Whether or not they know the words, they can use their imagination to create a new story from the pictures.

"I was very close with my grandparents. They lived on Cormier Street by the Ashwaubenon Branch Library when I was little.

My favorite thing to do with my Grandpa was to go to the library for storytime. My Grandpa would read the newspaper while I went to storytime with the other kids. Then after, I could pick out two books and we would walk home and read in the rocking chair - that was our thing. That's why I love to read...

The library has made an impact in my life growing up – a quiet place to study and to think, people willing to help you with questions, and a place to learn new things.

I started volunteering at the Ashwaubenon Branch Library twice a month because of the memories of my Grandpa and me. I enjoy the environment of the people who all enjoy reading books and the sense of community that it brings to me.

There is nothing better than a good book to read that takes you to a special place and keeps your mind and imagination going."
